Dear Stone Canyon Community Foundation Fund,

A lot can happen in a day with SARSEF.

In a single day with SARSEF...

a second grader is excited to learn that she can use science to find out more about the turtles in her favorite pond.

a high school student completes a final test run that proves the electrical and mechanical drafts they developed with their team of classmates really works and that they had successfully built their own solar-powered go-kart.

a local STEM professional volunteers at a SARSEF event to share about their career and leaves with excitement for the generations to come.

a teacher walks into her classroom with a renewed passion for STEM and the confidence that she can lead her students through individual research projects based on questions they care about.

a parent learns just how smart their kid really is.

And it all starts with people like you who make an investment in their community so that all students have the opportunity to think critically and solve problems using science and engineering. In the last school year alone, despite disruptions from COVID-19, 53,990 students were impacted by SARSEF's programs and events. With your help, that number will continue to grow.

Your donation is making a difference, and we can't thank you enough.

Sincerely,

Julie Euber, CEO
